

Call for Application

The Gender Alliance for Development Center (GADC) is a leading non-governmental organization (NGO) in Albania, founded in 1994, committed to promoting gender equality and empowering women. Through its multifaceted initiatives, GADC addresses gender-based disparities and fosters the social, economic, and political inclusion of women across Albania and the broader region. The organization focuses on key areas such as advocating for equal opportunities, combating gender-based violence, promoting gender-responsive budgeting (GRB), and providing capacity-building programs for communities, institutions, and civil society actors. GADC also conducts evidence-based research to influence public policy on issues like women's labor rights and social inclusion. With its unwavering dedication to gender justice, GADC remains a cornerstone of Albania's civil society, driving progress toward a more equitable and inclusive society.
